

GOV. SMALL SPEAKS HIS MIND IN FINAL MESSAGE

CHICAGO BEER
GANG LEADER
GANG VICTIMKilled While Playing
Host to Supposed
Three Friends

Chicago, Jan. 9. —(AP)— At Pasqualino Loloro's house late yesterday three smiling men raised glasses to drink the health of their host; then they shot him dead.

Eleven bullets from automatic pistols drilled into the head, neck and shoulders of Loloro. When he fell the fingers of his right hand still clutched the stem of his wine glass, shattered by the shots.

Loloro's assassination was a sequel, as are all Chicago gang and Mafia slayings; but whether it was a sequel to the murder of Tony Lombardo last fall, to blackhand operations of recent months, or to some unexplained gang hatred, police were not prepared to say.

They were looking, however, for Joe Aiello, eldest of seven brothers whose participation in gang violence has come under police scrutiny several times in the past. John Stege, Deputy Police Commissioner, said he had a witness who identified Aiello as one of the three men in the room when Loloro was slain.

Second Shooting.
Detectives were still at the Loloro flat, questioning Loloro's grief-stricken widow, when another gang shooting left Rocco Maggio severely wounded in his parked automobile. Maggio, once convicted of murder, was shot in the head by men who fired shotguns from their automobile as it sped by Maggio's home. It was Loloro's brother, Joe, who walked at Lombardo's side when that leader fell. Police believed the two assassinations were connected, but in what manner they could not say. There was even one report that Joe Loloro was in the room when his brother was shot, and that he was wounded. His wife refuted this, saying he had been out of town several days.

Lombardo's Heir.
Pasqualino Loloro, who was 43 years old, was described to police as the uncrowned but powerful successor to Tony Lombardo in the affairs of theUnione Siciliana. His widow said she knew only that he was an olive oil dealer and that he had no knowledge of any other activities in which he may have been engaged.

An 18-year-old son, Vincent, is a student at the University of Illinois. When police phoned him at Urbana last night they said his first words were: "Did somebody kill my father?"

Mrs. Loloro said she had seen two of the three slayers at least twenty times before, but that she did not know their names.

Victims of "Racket."
The booze racket in Chicago Heights has claimed, unofficially, another victim.

Officially, Frank Basile, chauffeur for the United States Attorney's office, was murdered by "persons unknown" the coroner's verdict reads, although police attribute Basile's death and sixty-one others to Chicago Heights gangs in the liquor traffic.

Basile, former cohort of Chicago Heights gangsters, gave the government valuable information concerning the alcohol ring there, according to United States District Attorney George E. Q. Johnson.

When Leroy Gilbert, chief of South Chicago Heights was slain, presumably by members of the whisky ring, Assistant United States District Attorney Daniel Anderson attended the inquest. Basile drove him there in view of the "mob."

A few days later, on December 13, the government informer's bullet filled body was found in a prairie on the southwest side of the suburb.

King Continues to Make Slow Progress

London, Jan. 9. —(AP)— King George's physicians today continued satisfied with his condition and it was generally recognized that only slow progress would be expected under the present circumstances.

Princess Mary carried the encouraging message that the King was recovering to persons conducting a children's fancy dress ball which she attended at Harrogate yesterday. The cheerfulness with which she shared in the festivities reflected the growing, if cautious, optimism prevalent in the royal family and palace circles generally.

It was understood King George passed a fair night and that his condition was not changed this morning.

Elephants, especially the Indian elephant, rarely breed in captivity.

TWO CHILDREN
INJURED WHILE
COASTING TUES.Billie Doyle and Vernon Busker Victims of Accidents

Billie Doyle, son of John Doyle of 1026 Highland avenue, while coasting about supper time last night, was thrown from a sled and landed on his head and shoulder. He was coasting with other children on Highland. He was stunned and concussion was feared at first, but it is thought now that Billie, who is ten years old, will soon be all right, although he received a severe blow.

Vernon Busker, aged 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Busker, 518 Seventh street, was the victim of the second serious coasting accident last evening about 8 o'clock while sliding on Eighth street near Madison avenue.

The boy was riding on his sled when another sled crashed into him, forcing him to the curb and against a small hitching post.

His left leg was broken just above the knee. He was taken to his home where he received medical attention and this morning it was found necessary to make an X-ray examination of the injury to determine the extent of the fracture.

THREE HELD FOR TRIAL BY GRAND
JURORS' REPORTBut Two Indictments are Returned by January
Term Inquisitors

The grand jury for the January term of the Lee county circuit court completed its duties late yesterday afternoon and shortly before 4 o'clock filed into the court room and presented its findings and recommendations to Judge Harry Edwards. But two true bills were returned following the two day session of the body as follows:

Thomas Kelly and Henry Miller—larceny.

Albert Manning—robbery from the person and larceny.

Kelly and Miller are transients who confessed the theft of an automobile south of Dixon a few weeks ago which they drove to Rock Island and abandoned and then went to Spring Valley where Miller told his story of the theft to the chief of police.

Manning is an Amboy youth who was arrested a few days ago on a charge of following an aged lady to her home and there grabbed her purse.

Reported On Jail
The grand jury did not recommend the building of a new jail, but after visiting and inspecting the county property included in their report of findings recommending an extra set of steel bars being placed on the outside of the present equipment which covers the windows in the jail section as a preventive to jail deliveries.

The fine appearance of the interior of the court house, especially the court rooms did not escape the notice of the grand jury who in their report commended the board of supervisors for the thorough cleaning and redecorating of the various rooms and departments of the court house.

SIXTEEN IN WHITESIDE
MORRISON, Ill., Jan. 9.—(AP)—Sixteen persons were named in 13 indictments returned by the Whiteside county grand jury, most of which were for liquor violations.Home of a Former Prosecutor Bombed

Michigan City, Ind., Jan. 9.—(AP)—The summer home of John Francis Tyrrell, former Assistant State Attorney of Cook county, Ill., was completely wrecked by a bomb this morning.

There was no one in the house at the time. The bomb had been placed in the basement. A two by four timber, part of the dwelling, was hurled through the roof of the another house, 100 feet away, while several smaller bombs fell into the lake, approximately 200 feet away.

The wrecked dwelling is located at Long Beach, summer resort colony. Police believe the bombing was linked with Chicago gangster's activities.

Former Dixon Woman is Dead in Chicago

Andrew Phalen of 713 Ottawa Ave. has received word of the death yesterday in Chicago of his sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Blackburn, a former resident of this city. Death of Mrs. Blackburn, who had many friends here, all of whom will mourn her passing, was caused by pneumonia. The body will be brought to Dixon for burial, but advices from Chicago today did not indicate when commitment services would be held here.

ABOLITION ILL.
COMMERCE BODY
COUNCIL'S PLEAUnfairness in the Fixing of Rates Charged in Resolution

The commission of the city of Dixon unanimously adopted a resolution at its regular session last evening, bitterly condemning the Illinois Commerce Commission for its "unfairness" in the local rate and schedule system and urging the abolishment of the body as it exists at the present time. The action required very little discussion on the part of the council members.

Mayor Frank D. Palmer presented the matter in the form of a resolution which had been prepared by the Illinois Municipal League, in which the Dixon city council holds membership, and immediately the measure gained friends. Within a few minutes Commissioner George Campbell had moved the adoption of the resolution and every member of the council present voted in favor of the measure which is as follows:

Text of Resolution
"Whereas, the original theory of state commerce regulations that the Commission was to be a publicly-supported body for the investigation and regulation of utility company affairs in the interest of the consuming public, has in practice, been replaced by the theory that the State Commerce Commission is quasi-judicial body which must arrive at decisions based on the evidence presented to it, thus leaving the public side of practically every case only partially and weakly presented, and

"Whereas, State Commission regulation of public utilities in Illinois has, in practice, failed to adequately protect the public interests with reference to utilities serving the inhabitants of cities, villages and incorporated towns, and

"Whereas, State Commission regulation of public utilities in Illinois has fallen down in practice to secure fair rate schedules (based on cost plus a reasonable return on the prudent investment) for various utility services, and

Citizens' Handicapped
"Whereas, under State Commission regulation of public utilities as now practiced in Illinois, municipalities are wholly unable, for lack of funds, to present cases in the interest of the public, comparable to the expensive cases presented by the utility services, and

"Whereas, one of the fundamental principles of the American government is that local problems should be decided by representatives of the local government concerned, and not by a small group at a distance from the locality, not responsible to the locality, and necessarily unfamiliar with the local problems involved,

"Now, therefore, be it resolved, That the city council of the City of Dixon, hereby goes on record in favor of the abolishment of the powers of the Illinois Commerce Commission insofar as they now relate to services and rates of companies and corporations furnishing public utility services within the corporate limits of cities, villages and incorporated towns, and

Seek Home Rule
"Be it further resolved, that the City Council of the City of Dixon, Illinois, hereby goes on record in favor of the 56th General Assembly passing the necessary legislation to vest in the corporate authorities of cities, villages and incorporated towns, the power to regulate the services and rates of companies and corporations furnishing public utility service to urban inhabitants, insofar as these services and rates relate to public utility services the major portion of which are rendered within the corporate limits of cities, villages, and incorporated towns, and

"Be it further resolved, that the Mayor forward copies of this resolution to His Excellency the Governor of Illinois, with a petition that His Excellency cooperate with the Illinois Municipal League in finding out whether the sentiment expressed in the foregoing resolution is general throughout the State, and if so, that appropriate action be recommended by His Excellency, to the 56th General Assembly, and

"Be it further resolved, that the resolution to the President of the Illinois Municipal League, with the request that the League send copies of this resolution to all municipalities over 2000 population, with the suggestion that the passage of the resolution be considered at the next council meeting, and that the President of the League be notified of the sentiment of the Council as expressed in the meeting, and

"Be it further resolved, that the President of the Illinois Municipal League be requested, after returns from the cities have been received, to transmit to His Excellency the Governor of Illinois, and the chairmen of the Senate and House Municipalities and Public Utilities Committees, a summary of the result as expressed by the cities, with a

ARTIST FOUND GUILTY FACES
TERM IN PRISONConvicted of Attack on Model for Picture
"The Captive"

Waukegan, Ill., Jan. 9.—(AP)—A twenty-five year term in the state penitentiary confronted David Ackerman today for the criminal attack on Mrs. Margaret Smith, artist's model.

A jury in Circuit Judge Claire C. Edwards' court deliberated five hours last night and found the 41-year-old pseudo artist of Waukegan guilty of having attacked Mrs. Smith June 4, on the Lake Forest estate of A. D. Lasker.

As the verdict was read Ackerman broke into sobs, his head bowed in his mother's lap, Mrs. Natalie Ackerman, who, with Mabel, his wife, were in tears.

Ackerman and Mrs. Smith testified during the trial that he had called at Mrs. Smith's home in Chicago, representing himself as an artist, and induced her to pose for him in the woods at Lake Forest.

She was told her, to be his model for a picture, to be entitled "The Captive." After reaching the woods she was trussed to a stake with ropes. The testimony of both had concurred up to this point, but Mrs. Smith related how Ackerman then, danced around her waving an axe and shouting he was a moron. He threatened to slay her if she resisted.

Ackerman, however, said "it was all part of a game. A game that I was playing and that she also was playing." He denied threatening her.

HOOVER URGED TO CALL EXTRA
SESSION EARLYAdditional Pressure Now
Brought to Bear on President-Elect

By JAMES L. WEST
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Washington, Jan. 9.—(AP)—Additional pressure for an extra session of the seventy-first Congress to enact farm relief and tariff revision legislation faced President-elect Hoover as he set out today upon this third round of conferences with Republican party leaders on Capitol Hill.

Senator Brookhart of Iowa, who had first place on an engagement list of sufficient length to keep Mr. Hoover busy from 9:30 a. m. until early evening, was armed with arguments to buttress the views already presented by Senator Borah of Idaho and some prominent House members in favor of the convening of the new Congress in the early spring.

In addition a committee of four had been selected by thirty of the thirty-two members of the Pennsylvania delegation in the House to present a formal resolution urging a special session. The resolution, adopted late yesterday, proposed no specific time for the summoning of the new Congress to Washington, merely setting forth that the call be issued as soon as practicable.

May Carry Weight
Pennsylvania was one of the first states sending uninstructed delegations to the Kansas City convention to declare for the nomination of Mr. Hoover. Consequently it is to be expected that the action of its congressional delegation will carry considerable weight with the President-elect.

Mr. Hoover also will give careful consideration to the recommendation of Senators Brookhart and Borah, who not only stood in the front ranks of his campaign staff group but also have given their endorsement to the fundamentals of the agricultural program which he outlined and presented his cause to the voters of the country.

The major features of this program are the creation of a federal farm board of representative farmers to be clothed with authority and supplied with resources to build up farmer-owned and farmer-controlled corporations to take care of crop surpluses and such increases in tariff duties as will give agriculture the same measure of protection as other industries.

Charges Against
Slayer Reduced

Burlington, Iowa, Jan. 9.—(AP)—Charges against Ed Loose, who confessed slaying his wife, were reduced from first to second degree murder by the grand jury yesterday which fixed his bonds at $25,000.

Reports that Mrs. Loose had a questionable record in regard to other men were said to have influenced the jury.

Loose, who is ill at Fort Madison, will be brought here for hearing when he recovers. He was arrested in Rock Island four days after the body of his wife was found near here Dec. 2.

Effective at 12:01 o'clock p. m. Sunday, January 13, the C. B. & Q. railroad will discontinue one of the two gas and electric trains between Barstow and Earlville, and the remaining passenger train will belong to the Aurora division instead of the Galesburg division, as in the past. The following motor car service daily except Sunday will be substituted for the present service between Shabbona, Earlville, Sterling and Barstow:

Here it will be known as train No. 152 and leave Sterling at 3:55; Agnew, 4:25; Sand, 5:34; Lyndon, 5:42; Denrock, 5:50; Erie, 6:00; Hillsdale, 6:09; Joslin, 6:18; Osborn, 6:24, and arrive at Barstow at 6:35.

How Connections Are Made

Under the new plan train 151-41 from Barstow through Sterling and Paw Paw will reach Earlville in connection with main line No. 18, leaving Earlville at 12:50 p. m. for Aurora and Chicago.

Likewise train 43-42 leaving Earlville at 12:55 p. m. for Shabbona, thence train 41-152 from Shabbona through Paw Paw and Sterling to Barstow, will receive connection at Earlville from both main line trains 18 and 11.

SENATORS BORAH
AND NORRIS NOT GUILTY, REPORTSenate Committee to Report They Did Not Get Money

Washington, Jan. 9.—(AP)—Documents purporting to show payments of $100,000 each to Senators Borah, of Idaho, and Norris, of Nebraska, by the Soviet government for their services to obtain American recognition of Russia have been declared false by a senate committee which investigated them.

It was disclosed today that the documents had been under investigation for a year by the committee which several months ago declared papers showing payments by the Mexican government to Senators Borah, Norris, Hefflin of Alabama and La Follette of Wisconsin, were forgeries.

The case was concluded with the testimony of Senators Borah and Norris before the committee that the Russian documents were untrue. Senator Reed of Pennsylvania, chairman of the committee, who is preparing a report to the Senate, declared the Senators' testimony was not necessary, and that he had not intended to make public the forgeries, but that Norris and Borah had requested him to do so.

During a visit to Europe last summer, Senator Reed attempted to find the source of the papers, but he said today he was not ready to identify the forgers.

The papers came into the hands of the committee last year and incited alleged receipts signed by Senators Borah and Norris, of payments to various sums were involved, but the receipts from the Russian government, payments which attracted attention purported to amount to $100,000 to each senator.

FIFTH TRIP TO JAIL FOR FAIL-
ING IN ALIMONYChicago Tailor Found Former Visits to
Cell Profitable

Chicago, Jan. 9.—(AP)—Five times David N. Wolin has been committed to jail for failure to pay alimony, and four times he has found it profitable. Whether the fifth time, started today, will be likewise, remains to be seen.

Wolin, a tailor, has discovered there is a genuine market for an expert mender among those who constitute "alimony row" at the jailhouse. Besides, Wolin knows how to dicker and seldom does he leave the jail without several overcoats obtained at trifling cost from inmates who anticipate having no immediate need for them. Sale of these coats at his place of business on West Washington street means neat profits.

Mrs. Anna Wolin was responsible for his commitment yesterday, charging he was $200 back in alimony payments. He usually pays a little after he goes to jail, and then gets out," she told Judge Gemmill.

"He'll stay in six months this time unless he pays in full," said the court.

BORAH FIGHTING
TO SAVE TREATY
AGAINST ATTACKDreams of Compromise on Interpretation is Dispelled

Washington, Jan. 9.—(AP)—With its dreams of a compromise dispelled, the Senate wrestled today with the Kellogg anti-war treaty, while the House went about the business of getting the war department appropriation bill passed.

Chairman Borah of the Senate foreign relations committee, was confident that he would see the treaty safely through, despite the revival of vigorous opposition. Both Borah and Secretary Kellogg were not willing to have interpretations of the treaty sent to other powers along with a formal notification of its ratification. Since treaty opponents insisted on the interpretations, the compromise negotiations ended there.

The House has had little trouble so far with appropriation bills and saw no reason to anticipate difficulty with the war department appropriation. Consideration of the measure was resumed yesterday after the House voted to seat Representative James M. Beck of Pennsylvania. It had been contended that Beck was not a resident of the district from which he was elected.

Committees of both houses went ahead with work, some of it routine and some on subjects that are drawing attention by their importance or by controversies that have developed. The House ways and means committee has settled down for an extended consideration of the tariff, clashes over proposed rate changes breaking out now and then.

Attorney General Sargent and Solicitor General Mitchell were summoned before the Senate Indian Affairs committee for questioning on the failure to press fraud charges against persons connected with the Barnett case. This case, involving the tangled affairs of Jackson Barnett, wealthy Indian, has already brought a charge by Commissioner Burke of the Indian Affairs Bureau that Senator Pine of Oklahoma was seeking to destroy him. The Indian Affairs committee has demanded that Burke bring proof of his charges and witnesses are to be heard on that later.

Heir to Millions
Killed by Friend

Orlando, Fla., Jan. 9.—(AP)—Van C. McCrory, son and sole heir to the millions of John C. McCrory, chain store operator, was accidentally killed by one of his closest friends during a deer hunt yesterday.

Raymer F. Maguire, Orlando attorney, and a relative by marriage, shot the 32 year old vice president of the McCrory chain while the two were traveling on horseback through the 10,000 acre McCrory estate in Orange county.

Investigating officers reported that the shooting was clearly accidental, and made a report which led to the announcement that no inquest will be held. McCrory was shot once in the back and died of hemorrhage of the lungs before medical aid could be obtained.

Members of the Maguire family said Maguire would be unable to make a statement until late today. He was overcome by grief. For several years he and the younger McCrory had been the closest of friends and had spent much of their time together during the annual visits of the McCrorys in Florida.

EIGHT YEARS
RULE REVIEW-
ED BY CHIEFState Has Made Great Progress, Figures He Cited, Proved

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 9.—(AP)—Galleries of the House of Representatives were packed to capacity at 12:35 o'clock this afternoon when Governor-elect Louis L. Emmerson, in his capacity as Secretary of State, called the 56th General Assembly to order.

Flowers made the assembly room a riot of color. Bouquets occupied aisles and desks of nearly all new members. On the Speaker's rostrum with the Secretary were Attorney General Carlstrom, State Auditor Kinney and State Treasurer Nelson.

Chief Justice De Young of the Supreme Court swore in twenty-five new Senators in the upper house. Martin Carlson, Republican, was elected president pro tem by a vote of 38 to 9, and Senator Hughes, Democrat, became minority leader, as the caucuses had indicated. At 12:40 o'clock the Senate advised the Governor it was ready to do business.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 9.—(AP)—His excellency, Governor Len Small of Illinois, today submitted his formal message to the 56th general assembly, marking the end of his term of office.

One hundred and sixty pages in length, the document advised the newly elected legislators of the "condition of the state," and in addition gave Governor Small a means of speaking his mind, concerning some of the things that befell him in his eight years as chief executive.

Pointing to the fact that the former Chief Justice of the Supreme Court became candidate for governor, the message gives credence to "common gossip" that the Supreme Court had been used against him. "Passing years," the governor wrote, "will enable us to look at that decision with candid and unbiased eyes," and "we shall all look on that day as a regrettable incident in the history of the judicial department of this state."

"Hard Roads Governor"
Entering service as "Hard Roads Governor" eight years ago, Governor Small holds to his title in retiring. Six hundred miles of hard roads, the message said, "are under contract for 1929, and 478 additional miles have been specified by plans and surveys." Recommendation of Governor Small made are as follows:

"Such action as is legally permissible to provide supplemental funds for completion of the Illinois waterways."

"That means be provided to complete the state bond issue road system, and to extend that system so that every city and village in the state will be connected by paved roads; that roads in congested areas be widened and improved; that a larger system of secondary roads be constructed. For this purpose I recommend the passage of a gasoline tax, because I believe it to be the fairest and most just tax for building roads."

"I recommend that appropriations for buildings at the public welfare institutions be made in a lump sum to that department so that buildings may be erected where needed and where they may be built to the best advantage."

"That laws be passed with a view to making our highways safer by curbing reckless and careless driving on public highways while intoxicated."

Charles School
"That the statutes be changed so as to prohibit the sending of any boy over sixteen years of age to St. Charles School for Boys. This law should also prohibit the sentencing of habitual criminals to this school,

ON THE WOOD-PATH

I followed the wood-path round today
And these were things I saw by the way—
A copse of waxberries and sweet-briar haws,
A squirrel with a hazelnut in his paws,
I saw the flick of a pert white tail
And an empty shell that once housed a snail,
I saw wild asters like lavender stars,
Boughs black on the sky as prison bars,
The rungs of a fairy ladder where
A cobweb was blown across the air
And a pheasant cock who haughtily strode
Ahead of me down the grass-dim road,
I saw a gate in a fence, and then
You at a window, I was home again.

Fifteenth Annual Christmas Party Held

Mrs. Guy Miller of Boyd street, each year delights the children of the neighborhood near her home in North Dixon with a Christmas party. This year marked the fifteenth party and was held Saturday afternoon. It was late because of illness, and perhaps it was enjoyed the more coming after an interlude which followed the other Christmas festivities.

The tree at the Miller home is always one of the most perfect and beautiful to be found anywhere and this year it was too, but the needles had started to fall, as they did very soon on all the trees, this season. But the gallant tree was so beautifully and lavishly adorned that when the children saw it they gave gasps of delight and joy. The colored lights, and the beautiful ornaments, made it seem alive. It glowed and sparkled for them. There were about thirty children present and they all spent one of the happiest of afternoons.

Mrs. Miller was assisted in entertaining the young guests by her niece, Miss Virginia Carroll, who with her brother, are making their home with Mr. and Mrs. Miller, this winter. Games were played, some new ones caused much interest and amusement, one of which was "Lighting Santa Claus' Pipe." Barbara Miller winning the prize for this. At the game "Hokum," Lois Hallenberg won the prize; and George Crawford won the prize for the game "Statuary."

Of course the youngsters all received gifts, and all greatly enjoyed the tempting refreshments, the table being beautifully decorated, the small Christmas trees adding much to the beauty and spirit of the occasion.

Saturday afternoon will long remain a happy memory to both the tiny tots present, as well as the older children.

Members of White Shrine Were Guests

The White Shrine patrol of Corinthian Shrine, No. 40, White Shrine of Jerusalem, of this city, was honored this week in being invited to participate in exercises in the new Consistory building at Freeport, which was attended by a large number. The occasion was the official visit of the Supreme Worthy High Priestess. A banquet was served at 6:30 which was followed by a program and during the evening the Dixon team gave an exhibition drill which brought forth much applause and words of commendation.

FLORIDA WOMEN DODGE WORRIES OF BUSINESS

St. Petersburg, Fla.—(AP)—Women of Florida are not interested in lifting the mantle of business from the shoulders of men, concludes Mrs. Ethel L. Best, a field worker of the women's bureau of the United States department of labor.

Mrs. Best says that few white women within the state enter business and that the majority of these are employed in stores and hotels. The number of professional and business women is small, she says.

Monday Was Gala Day For Women's Dep't at Y. M. C. A.

The postponed parties for the Women's Dep't. at the "Y" were in full swing last Monday afternoon and evening.

The girls enjoyed a program of games, folk-dancing and a fine supper. In a happy surrounding, under supervision, the girls enjoyed musical, active and dramatic recreation. After the supper, Sara Aliekruse, Elsie Neff and Eleanor Bartholemew entertained by presenting three stunts. These created much laughter and fun.

Three new members were welcomed into the group—Lillian Covert, Phyllis Fuls and Elizabeth Ford. After a sing of songs the girls voted to have a party once each month. A good proof that all had a happy time.

The women of the Department enjoyed a Poverty Party Monday evening at 7:15. Fashions dating back some fifteen or twenty years furnished much entertainment. A game known as a "Kangaroo Relay" was a scream. Women in bobble skirts tripped hobbled back from one end of the line to the other. To see these women play the games that mean running and jumping one would think from the laughter and pep that it was a group of youngsters out on the gym floor. To on-lookers and listeners the fun created by the costumes and games excelled any other the Women's Department have enjoyed.

Mrs. Niles Palmer rendered several selections on the accordion. These were very much enjoyed by the women. It was agreed that all members who missed the party forfeited an evening of much fun and entertainment. After refreshments were served the women expressed a desire for another party in the near future.

Women Did Their Share of Voting

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 8.—(AP)—Women did their share of voting at the general election in Illinois last November.

"Peoria reported that 47 per cent of its vote was cast by women," a statement of the Illinois League of Women Voters said. "Oak Park estimates that 55 per cent of the vote was cast by women. In Chicago, the women cast 43 per cent of the vote. However, of the women registered, 94.9 per cent voted whereas of the men who registered only 94.5 per cent voted."

The 1928 vote represented a 25.7 per cent increase over the 1924 vote. It is estimated that there are about 4,000,000 eligible to vote in Illinois although no accurate figures are available. The 1928 vote, therefore, represents approximately 75 per cent of the potential vote the goal which the League of Women Voters set in 1924.

Stripes Brighten New Sport Frocks

BY HENRI BENDEL
For NEA Service

New York—Probably no type of clothes designed for Palm Beach and other southern resort wear attracts the attention that sports clothes do.

They hold their strategic position because they can be worn most universally. By that I mean that more people in more parts of the country, need the sports type of frock than, for instance, the bathing suits or the filmy chiffons for formal afternoon affairs.

Influence All Fashions

Moreover, in recent years, sports clothes have had a tremendous influence on the whole world of fashion. Everyone remembers the advent of the kerchief topping a formal evening gown. Cocktail jackets had their origin in sports cardigans.

Therefore the details of style that couturiers evolve for sports clothes are watched very minutely, not only by fashion experts but by individuals who follow the style.

New Stripes Are Novel

Novelty stripes are being used in profusion on early spring sports things. Not collegiate stripes and not broad, uninteresting even stripes. But some kind of a combination of varying sized stripes, stripes and dots, stripes and checks. Much is made of color against a less bright background. Much is made of blouses, and many times the overblouse or sweater is the colorful part of a costume.

Skirts on the whole are full. Novelty pleating is used a great deal. Some skirts introduce the idea of plain, unadorned gathers, as a new way to get fullness. Since gathers have been out for many years, they do bring a certain sense of fresh novelty with their return.

A gathered white crepe skirt, in one of the new styles, is topped by an overblouse of hand-blocked silk in a modernistic pattern of blue, white and beige. A diagonal stripe of blue and beige heightens the contrast of this overblouse, with a diamond-shaped pattern up the sleeves and across a pocket on one side. A scarf of blue adds its bit too.

Small Hat Favored

Topping this sports frock is a little beige hat from Rose Valois with a draped banding of blue and beige chiffon. This hat is indicative of the small hat's favor this winter, provided it is svelt and smart.

Beige faille, striped in yellow and green fashions a charming little two-piece frock. The skirt's deep pleats are curved and stitched to fashion a long yoke effect and its lower edge has a sweet banding of the green with narrow stripes of the yellow above it.

This novelty striping circles the overblouse and the cuffs. The square neck has an interesting tie treatment, the tie ends really being an extension of the neck's banding. A beige bangkok hat has bandings of the colors in suede, exactly matching to complete the scheme.

For Sweater Suits

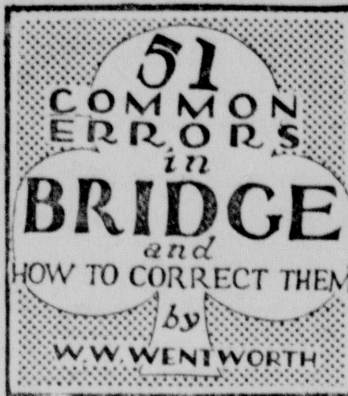

Sweater suits this spring are apt to combine knitted sweaters with silk or fine wool skirts and often take their matching cardigans in the skirt's fabric.

A stunning gold-yellow and white sports suit has a box-pleated skirt of white kasha and its sweater embroidered in stripes and novelty diamond figures in white silk. The sweater simulates a little tie, by its embroidery.

Yellow hosiery and white shoes are suitable accessories while a little white ballbunt hat is banded in the gold-yellow.

The Bidding: South bids no trump.

Deciding the Play: West leads 3 of hearts. South takes with ace of hearts. What card should now be played and how?

The Error: Declarer plays 2 of diamonds and then plays ace of diamonds. Declarer makes his contract but sacrifices game.

The Correct Method: Declarer observes the following sure winners—ace of spades, ace of hearts, king of hearts, queen of hearts, ace of clubs and ace of diamonds, or a total of six tricks. To frame three more tricks are required. These extra tricks may be made from the diamond suit by playing as follows: duck the first trick and when on the lead again finesse queen of diamonds. The remaining diamonds will in all probability be winners.

The Principle: When holding ace, queen and three small cards of a suit in dummy, and two cards of that suit in closed hand, or vice versa, four tricks may be made at no-trump play by ducking the first trick.

Many Ask Barbecue Sauce Recipe; Here 'Tis

There is no question that barbecue meats have become extremely popular, in the opinion of Miss Inez S. Willson, home economist of the National Live Stock and Meat Board. Miss Willson says she is constantly besieged with requests for recipes for barbecue sauce. She submits the following recipe for those interested.

Barbecue Sauce
2 quarts vinegar
4 cups salt
3 tablespoons cayenne pepper
This is the sauce which is used to barbecue a whole pig out-of-doors, but it may be used in oven roasting a fresh ham. It is used to baste the meat frequently. The sauce is heated thoroughly and the basting should be frequent and liberal.

Practical Club in Pleasant Meeting

The regular meeting of the Practical Club was held at the home of Mrs. R. E. Worsley yesterday afternoon.

After the business meeting, a most interesting paper was read by Mrs. D. G. Palmer. Her subject was "North and South Pole Expeditions." It dealt chiefly with Commander R. E. Byrd's explorations and much of the material was taken from the book "Skyward," written by this popular and daring aviator.

The roll call response proved most unique and somewhat enlightening, as "pet aversions" were given by each member.

The group singing, which is a feature of each meeting, added considerable zest to the program.

The serving of delectable refreshments by the hostess completed a most enjoyable afternoon.

W.M.S. Grace Church Met on Tuesday

The W. H. M. S. of Grace Evangelical church met on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. I. S. Graybill. The meeting opened with a song, "Only A Sinner."

Mrs. Sophia Bose read the Scripture and Mrs. June led in prayer, followed by all repeating the Lord's Prayer. A song, "Full Surrender," followed.

Mrs. Graybill read a selection "The Challenge of the Unfinished Task." Rev. Brandell gave the lesson study, "The Friend as Teacher" in the study book, "Friends of Africa."

Mrs. Sarah Reis played a beautiful piano solo.

Mrs. Ida Smith gave a reading which was enjoyed by all. A business session was held, after which dainty refreshments were served and a social time was enjoyed by all present.

Mrs. Graybill and Mrs. Bose were the hostesses for the afternoon.

Major John Coolidge To Escort Fiancee

Hartford, Conn., Jan. 9.—(AP)—Major John Coolidge tonight will escort his fiancee, Miss Florence Trumbull, to her father's inaugural ball. It will be the first time the Major has worn his new uniform.

Appointment of the President's son as a Major on the staff of Governor John H. Trumbull was made possible by an agreement of the general assembly to amend the military law of the state today to permit appointment of a staff officer to represent the Citizen Military Training Camps.

Coolidge, who is employed at the New Haven offices of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railway, has attended several of the citizen military camps during his summer vacations at Amherst College.

Twenty years ago today Theodore Roosevelt, then a President's son, was appointed a Colonel on the staff of Governor George L. Lilley. At that time, however, aides could be appointed from civilian life without special legislation. Major Coolidge will assist at the inauguration of his prospective father-in-law for a third term.

ELUSIVE SOLITUDE.

Eugene O'Neill, famous playwright, suffered a partial nervous breakdown and cast about for some refuge where he could have peace and quiet. He picked Shanghai—seemingly as remote a place as a harassed American could want—and went there in the hope of rebuilding his health by escaping all petty annoyances.

But it didn't work. Peace was more unattainable in Shanghai than it had been in New York. After a few weeks the dramatist was forced to flee again. He wrote to a friend:

"I came to China seeking peace and quiet and hoping that here, at least, people would mind their business and allow me to mind mine. But I have found more snoops and gossips per square inch than there is in any New England town of 1000 inhabitants."

Shanghai has always been accepted as one of those places where a man burdened by cares, worries or unpleasant memories could go and "forget." In fiction, drama and the moving pictures, Shanghai is the port of missing men; the place where one's past is forgotten, where one's companions are not inquisitive, where one can exist as one pleases without being questioned or bothered.

But, apparently, it really isn't that kind of place at all. O'Neill found it full of "snoops and gossips," and discovered that there was less privacy obtainable in Shanghai than in the most prying, inquisitive American small town.

This is a bit of a jolt to our preconceived notions, but it really need not be a surprise. The urge to poke a nose into the other fellow's business is one of the oldest and most universal traits human nature possesses. It happens, also, to be one of the most unpleasant.

No one knows the number of lives that have been wrecked by this human propensity to gossip and pry. It must be enormous. Most of us are guilty, in more or less degree. It usually begins innocently enough, with idle speculation about some unexplained action of a friend or neighbor; but it often progresses beyond all bounds, tying the luckless victim hand and foot in a mesh of inquisitive snooping and talk from which he cannot hope to escape.

It's no use going to Shanghai to get away from it. It can't be done. Until human nature changes, we will always have gossip. It can neither be fought nor escaped. The only thing a man can do is strengthen himself to ignore it, if possible—and, at the same time, bind himself not to indulge in any on his own hook.

THE CHINESE MARKET.

An article in the current Magazine of Wall Street emphasizes the enormous potentialities of the Chinese market as a field for American exporters.

There are 400,000,000 people in China. The vast majority of these people, at present, use almost nothing that does not come from their own vicinity. But the new regime in China, seeking to rehabilitate the country, have great plans for raising its economic level. They are now projecting a $10,000,000 road building program, and hope it will be merely the first step in a general awakening.

It is easy to figure out the tremendous demand for goods that will come if these 400,000,000 Chinese are lifted even slightly in the economic scale. American industrialists who are prompt in cultivating the Chinese field stand to reap huge dividends a few years from now.

Of the 13 cabinet offices established by Premier Mussolini, the portfolios of Colonies, Foreign Affairs, the Interior, War, Marine, Aviation and Corporations are held by an active gentleman named Mussolini. About the only thing he can't get around to, it seems, is being a couple of hundred postmasters.

An odd paragraph culled from a London journal: "Mr. Hoover wants complete defense of the United States, even against invasion. But what nation is likely to invade a place like the U. S. A. of its own free will?" The trouble is, nations sometimes feel forced to invade others.

The premier of Rumania has just discovered that an entire railroad has been stolen, dismantled and sold. Maybe he ought to ask around if anybody has seen a little black satchel.

A professor at the University of Pittsburgh claims to have succeeded in making the smallest light in the world. We had been thinking those were made by city councils.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KNOCK

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

What pleasure little Clowny had. Said he, "Well, I am surely glad that all the rest are sound asleep, and we are here alone. There's no one else to dance with you, so all the dancing I can do." And thus they went on dancing to the organ's pretty tone.

It wasn't very long until the wee dwarf said, "I've had my fill of playing on this organ. Gee, my arms are all tired out. I cannot turn the crank much more. I think I'll go to sleep and snore." That he was mighty sleepy there was very little doubt.

"All right," said Clowny. "Go ahead and rest your little sleepy head. We thank you very much for all the lovely tunes you've played. When you turn in, please wake the bunch. They'll all get up. I have a hunch 'cause they will want to play some more." So off the wee dwarf strayed.

When Coppy and the others came, another dwarf said, "There's a game that all of you will quite enjoy. Come on, and follow me." "You bet," cried Scouty. "I'm no dunce, and I'll try any real fun once. I hope it is some thrilling sport that we are going to see."

The dwarf soon led them up a lane. They found their trip was not in vain. Away up on a hillside they approached a little nook. "Here's where we stop," the queer dwarf cried. "If all of you would like to slide, this is a dandy sliding place." And Clowny said, "Oh, look!"

They spied a chutes that circled round and led far down toward the ground. "Hop on," exclaimed the little dwarf, "and I will push each one." "Course very little time was spent in hopping on, and down they went." As Carpy slid along real fast, he shouted, "This is fun."

Poets' Corner

ROCK RIVER

Queen City of Dixon, you are blest!
From you lowland drives and your wooded crests

You thrill to the joy of the noble stream

That awakens the Muse and gladdens my theme,
For I've learned to love your beauty too

And to watch for it when the dawn breaks through
And the sun comes up in the river bed.

Painting the sky and the waters red
Where the vanishing river mists' s coral shade
Brushes the verdure in glen and glade.

As it lifts and floats in a rainbow veil
Down the full course of The Blackhawk Trail.

Climbing higher, the sun melts the rosy hues
Into glints of gold and turquoise blues

With fringes of white like a million pearls
Where the waters rush into foaming curls

That dash and tumble and spill themselves
Over the dam and the turbine shelves
As they hurry and roll in a mad, wild spree

Of turbulent joy toward a far away sea.
I linger long on your cherty banks
Drinking in beauty and giving thanks
Till the sun sets again in the river bed.

A great round ball of gold and red,
That loses itself behind the bridge
And the outlined trees on the rocky ridge.

Exchanging its glimmer of gold sublime
For the quiet peace of the twilight time.

Now your Castle Bluffs like sentinels stand—
The lookout points of the valley land,
Where the pale-face clashed with his warrior friend,

Rending his kingdom from end to end,
Which once his native prowess had found

An undisturbed, happy hunting ground.
But Black Hawk still is the valley's guest.

For he reigns, supreme, from The
Eagle's Nest
Where the sculptor's optimism has proved

That his soul still lingers in haunts
he loved.
Together with legends of bard and scribe.

Preserving the romance of his tribe.

And now, at nightfall, if you will peep
From my hilltop window, where watch I keep.

You can see through the lingering mist and haze
The place where the campfire leaps and plays

As blanketed forms hold Council of War
And tribal questions are settled once more.

Then, close by the door of a low teepee,
A possum swings from a friendly tree.

And The Medicine Man his magic grants

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

While away, to the tune of the

An Indian Brave sings the old Love moonlight.

And, tucked up here on my castle
wall,
I thrill to the mystery of it all,
And welcome the songs that you sing
to me—

Songs of your long ago ecstasy,
Songs of yesterday, songs of tomor-

PLAY SAFE

We have a radiator alcohol glycerin mixture for your car that will save you money this winter. The large amount of glycerin in this mixture prevents the alcohol from vaporizing, consequently you are playing a safer game with your car by having this mixture in your radiator. If you have used straight alcohol you wondered many times if your radiator was safe from freezing.

This mixture costs very little more than straight alcohol, as it lasts at least three times as long as alcohol it is a lot cheaper than alcohol to use, and its just as safe to use as alcohol in regards to your motor or radiator. So do the safe thing and use the safe radiator non-freeze. All alcohol and glycerin mixtures are not the same. We buy this well-known brand because we honestly believe it is the best on the market and we want our customers to have a satisfactory product. We are not here to gyp anyone.

UNUSUAL SESSION OF LEGISLATURE ANTICIPATED NOW

Scores of Important Mat- ters: New State Ad- ministration

BY B. P. BOLTON
Associated Press Staff Writer

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 9.—(AP)—The guiding hand of a new state administration, the fresh attitudes on legislation of more than half a hundred new members, and a host of campaign promises on vital matters promise to make the 56th General Assembly which convened here at noon today one of the most notable in Illinois history.

Hundreds of suggestions for legislative enactment have already been presented to the legislature from nearly as many sources. Many new enactments and many that have been proposed in past sessions are included in this list.

Louis L. Emmerson, Illinois' new Republican governor, stands pledged to half a dozen or more reforms. These include utilization of very possible resource for completion of the Illinois waterway; continuation of the program of hard road building so successfully pushed by Governor Len Small; an equitable reapportionment of the state as to senatorial districts; a revision of the state's revenue system; and relief, wherever possible, for Illinois farmers.

These pledges are augmented by the promises of every legislator to his individual constituency.

Coming Measures
Foremost among measures certain to be brought before the assembly, in the early days of the session, are the gasoline tax, the income tax, a reapportionment measure, proposals for curbing crime, a four million dollar increase in the state school fund, proposals for radical changes in the state revenue system, and a motor drivers' license law.

Added to these are two repealers, expected in the first batch of bills introduced; one to wipe from the statute books the quo warranto exemption law and another to do away with legalized gambling on horse races. Both laws were enacted by the last assembly.

All of the measures enumerated have been before previous sessions, many of them several times.

The income tax was decisively defeated two years ago, but since then there has been a growing sentiment in its favor, as the only specific to relieve the small property owners of taxation burdens. The other taxation relief measures involve an amendment to the constitution, a project which heretofore has not been possible to accomplish. The income tax bill will come in this year with the support of labor, educational forces, bankers, and many other statewide organizations.

The gas tax, tried in Illinois for six months until the law was held unconstitutional by the Supreme court, is believed to have ample support for early passage this year, despite the bitter fight against it in the last assembly. So confident are its sponsors that they may propose a three cent tax, increasing the previous tax one cent per gallon.

In the first few days of the session a hundred or more bills are expected to be dropped into the legislative grist mill. A partial compilation of proposals classified by subjects as specifically as possible, follows:

1. TAXATION
1. A gasoline tax, of two or three cents per gallon, to replace that knocked out by the Supreme court.

2. An income tax, probably graduated on the basis of the income, for obtaining revenue from the co-called "hidden wealth" which goes untaxed under the present property tax system.

3. An amendment to the constitution to allow complete revision of the state's taxation system.

4. Cut down the number of taxing units and oodles.

5. Promulgate uniform regulations for assessing property.

6. Devise some means of carrying on the state's aid to county fairs in the event that the proposition to repeal the horse racing bill is carried, thus cutting off the present source of revenue.

2. CRIME
1. A new "deadly weapon" law with more stringent provisions.

2. Forbid the sale and possession of machine guns except by law officers.

3. Acquisition of new state parks, for which several sites have been suggested.

AMUSEMENTS

"THIS THING CALLED LOVE," WOODS THEATRE, CHICAGO

Commencing Monday evening, January 14th, Patterson McNutt, producer of "The Poor Nut" which had a successful run at the Cort, will bring to the Woods his latest production by Edwin Burke, a light, mirthful and delicate comedy, entitled "This Thing Called Love," direct from an engagement in New York of five months at the Bijou Theatre, where it was acclaimed by press and public as the gayest comedy hit of the year.

Instead of a star, Mr. McNutt has provided his play with three featured players all well known, to Chicago audiences, in the persons of Violet Heming, seen here in many successes and one of the leading personalities in the all star cast of "Trelawney of the Wells," and also that of "The Rivals," Miss Heming also lent her talents to the cast of "Disraeli" as leading player with George Arliss.

Minor Watson, personable young leading man, who is best known to Chicago audiences through his performance here in "Howdy King," and who also played with Chrystal Herne in "These Modern Women" and with Ruth Chatterton in "Maggie's Lady" and Juliet Day, whose last appearance here was in "No, No, Nanette" in which she was one of the leading hits during the run of this success at the Harris.

Miss Day has had a long list of successes to her credit. Since her first appearance in the "Blue Bird," she has scored in "Everywoman" in which she played "Modesty," in the original production of "The Yellow Jacket" and in "Upstairs and Down."

SPORTS OF ALL SORTS EXPECT DEMPSEY TO ANNOUNCE HIS COMEBACK TRIAL

He Will Do So Because
That is What Tex
Rickard Wanted

BY ALAN J. GOULD

Associated Press Sports Writer
New York, Jan. 9.—(AP)—Jack Dempsey is expected to announce definitely tomorrow he has decided to carry out Tex Rickard's wish that he return to the ring this year in an attempt to regain the heavyweight championship of the world.

At first perhaps inclined to give up all thought of a comeback, as a result of the shock of losing the man who played so big a part in shaping his fighting destiny, Dempsey now seems to think that he could do nothing more appropriate than carry on as the promoter would have wished. His feeling perhaps is that with Rickard's passing it is more binding upon him than before to carry out the promoter's desire that he fight once more.

Fight in September
Unless there is a shake-up in the program, this means Dempsey's next and probably last fight will take place at the Yankee Stadium some time in September, more than ten years after he won the heavyweight title from Jess Willard and three years to the month after he lost it to Gene Tunney.

His opponent will be selected, if Rickard's well-laid plans go through, from an elimination process involving four men. Two of them, Young Stribling and Jack Sharkey, will fight the first test match at Miami Beach February 27, in a bout which will find Dempsey in a promoter's role for the first time. Paulino Uzcudun and Tom Heeneey, unless the latter decides not to compete, will meet in a second elimination contest in May, the winner to box the victor of the Sharkey-Stribling match to see if his place may be filled by some other contender but three preliminaries to the grand climax are planned.

"Rickard did a lot for me in the years we worked together," said Dempsey. "I have had great confidence in his judgment and great respect for his friendship from the time I first met him at Goldfield, Nev. about 1911, when I was just a kid and boxing only now and then as an amateur. He never gave me a bad steer."

Has Financial Interest
"The best thing I can think of to do is carry on as I knew he wanted me to do. We shared a financial interest in this Miami Beach fight and that's one reason why I am going back there to try to put it over." Dempsey may qualify his announcement of a forthcoming comeback to the extent of saying it depends on whether he can regain his old fighting condition. Those close to him, however, do not believe any serious obstacles will arise.

The directors of Madison Square Garden, whether or not they have their eye on Dempsey as a possible successor to Rickard's titular role in boxing, are understood to favor a fighting comeback by the former champion. For one thing, they are anxious to further Rickard's program for a revival of heavyweight interest by crowning Tunney's successor, at the same time endeavoring to recoup the losses suffered in 1928.

Without the participation of Dempsey, it is not believed any series of heavyweight tests would produce a generally recognized champion or develop much financial profit.

depends on whether he can regain his old fighting condition. Those close to him, however, do not believe any serious obstacles will arise.

Denver, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Eddie Mack of Denver, Rocky Mountain lightweight champion, mauled and slashed his way to a decision over Tod Morgan, world's junior lightweight champion, in a vicious ten round non-title bout last night.

Starting slowly, Mack unleashed a sizzling attack in the last three rounds that kept 7000 customers on their feet and had the champion bloody and groggy at the final bell. Mack weighed in at 134 pounds, five more than Morgan.

It was generally conceded that Mack put up the best fight of his career.

WINNERS OF BIG TEN TITLE HAVE HARD JOB AHEAD

Three of Favorites in Race Already Beat in First Week

Chicago, Jan. 8.—(AP)—The road to the Western Conference basketball title promises to be rough for the team that would win the championship.

Already, with the season not a week old, three of the four favorites have fallen by the wayside. Only Purdue of the four teams slated to fight it out for the title remains undefeated while tied with them is Michigan, considered a first division finisher but not of championship stuff. Iowa is the only other undefeated five in the conference, having won its one Big Ten game while Purdue and Michigan have won two each.

Indiana was the latest favorite to fall, succumbing last night to Illinois at Champaign, 20 to 16. The Illini, which have a yearly habit of knocking off the "big boys" when least expected played a slow, cautious game that had the Hoosiers baffled. It was Indiana's first conference game and Illinois first victory in two starts. Purdue defeated the Illini in the season's opener.

Purdue won its second game, defeated Chicago at Bartlett gym 38 to 26, mainly because "Stretch" Murphy outreached the midget Maroon five to score 11 field goals. Chicago's battering, scrambling style of play proved effective at times but just as often its awkwardness left wide openings, and usually Murphy was standing inside of the free throw line, ready to receive the ball. Glen Harneson was the only other Boiler-maker to cage more than one basket but he flashed some beautiful floor work, particularly in dribbling.

THIRTY HURT IN BALCONY FALL IN GALESBURG GAME

Basketball Game Was Terminated by Accident Last Evening

Galesburg, Ill., Jan. 9.—(AP)—More than thirty persons were in hospitals today with injuries suffered when a balcony in the Knoxville high school gymnasium collapsed during a basketball game.

Although many were only cut and bruised, others suffered broken legs and arms in the accident that terminated the game between Knoxville and Abingdon last night.

About 100 fans were in the balcony when one side gave way as they stamped their feet and cheered. It fell upon scores of spectators seated beneath and in falling scraped the control box of the electric light system from the wall, plunging the gym into darkness.

The darkness added to the terror of the frightened and injured spectators and the screams of women and the moans of the injured filled the gym until a high school student succeeded in twisting the wires together again to illuminate the building.

Several men raised one end of the fallen balcony while others extricated the injured and administered first aid until the arrival of ambulances and police patrols. The injured were brought to hospitals here.

Among the injured are Mrs. S. A. Lemarr, wife of the Superintendent of Schools at Abingdon; Mrs. George Benner, wife of the Abingdon Principal; and the following from Knoxville: Mary Buckley, Bess Miller, Harlan Charles, James Campbell, Horace Ott, Tanel Welch, Clyde Woolsey and Francis Goddard, students; and Mabel Woolsey, eighth grade teacher.

Hooks and Slides

Rickard Rates on Dough
When the late Tex Rickard discussed the order in which the fighters ought to be rated, it is not unjust to suspect that he might have been prejudiced by the box office value of the fighters. He was primarily a business man in the business and it was his natural talent as a showman and not any genius in judging fighters that made him a success.

Considering that he had been dealing with fighters for years, Rickard probably knew fewer fighters than any other man in the business. He admitted it and got a lot of personal amusement out of it.

As an illustration, the incident that happened not so long ago on a train coming from St. Louis, may be repeated.

Rickard had taken a special carload of reporters to St. Louis to sign Jack Dempsey to a new contract—or some similar stunt—and the train stopped in Terra Haute on the return trip.

Didn't Know Taylor
Bud Taylor was at the station and he boarded the car and went into Rickard's drawing room. Taylor learned all over the promoter and greeted him like a long lost uncle.

Rickard received him with the same welcome but when it became necessary to say something he asked: "What you don't way out here, young fellow?"

Taylor told him that he always had lived in Terra Haute and Rickard said: "Well, well what do you think of that?"

When Taylor had gone Rickard turned to Mike Jacobs and inquired: "Who was that young fellow?" And Jacobs nearly fell out the window.

Tom Knows 'Em
Tom McArdle, who made the matches for Rickard, probably knows more fighters and is more familiar with their records than any other man in the business. And he is one of the best judges of fighters in the business.

In discussing the prospects for 1929, McArdle expressed interesting opinions. He strung along with Rickard in predicting that every champion with the exception of Sammy Mangnelli, the lightweight title holder, might be defeated this year.

"Joe Dundee and Mickey Walker are going," he said, "and I wouldn't be surprised if Ace Hudkins finished the year with both the welterweight titles. He can do it if he gets the chance but it is doubtful that either one of them will fight him."

"Al Singer looks like a sure shot to become the featherweight champion. All he needs, too, is a match with the champion and he'd put some new life in the class. Hudkins and Singer could make the customers forget about the heavyweights for a while."

Ace Wants to Quit
Hudkins, according to his friends, is thinking seriously of retiring as soon as he gets another bank roll. He has made a lot of money but he hasn't saved any of it and he has paid a lot of mind to Dempsey's remarks about he is all together mentally and physically. If he has a good big year he may retire this year.

Tuffy Griffiths is Winner Chicago Bout

Chicago, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Tuffy Griffiths, Sioux City boxer who climbed from the pantamweight ranks to a light heavyweight contender in two years, has successfully invaded the heavyweight class.

Making his debut with the heaviest Tuffy, who won 55 bouts as a light heavyweight before being stopped by J. J. Braddock, knocked out George Gernas of Philadelphia last night in the second round of their 10-round bout. It was Tuffy's first Chicago appearance since his sensational string of victories was stopped by Braddock in New York in November.

Griffiths, who was substituted for Les Marriner when the former University of Illinois football player injured his hand, floored the wild swinging Quaker City boy ten times before Gernas took the count.

The fight was Griffiths' last until he meets Leo Lomski in Detroit February 8.

Dixon Pirates Win from Oregon Quintet

Last evening at the Oregon Coliseum the newly organized Dixon Pirates basketball team defeated the Oregon Merchants by a score of 37 to 11. The first quarter was fairly even but the Dixon team members finally centered their attack and at half time the score was 20 to 5. In the third quarter only three points were scored, two by Oregon and one lone free throw by Dixon. The Pirates then formed a raiding party and gathered in 16 points while Oregon was gaining four. The score:

Pirates—Adkins, 6; Schertner, 5; Joyce, 3; Six, 1; Blackburn, 1. Total—16.
Oregon—Revell, 2; Burdock, 0; Stauffer, 0; Haas, 2; Fearer, 0; Heiter, 0; Hayes, 0; Gesiner, 1. Total—5.

The Pirates although organized late in the season are a fast organization and anticipate a very busy season with teams in this locality.

Thousands Paid Rickard Tribute

New York, Jan. 9.—(AP)—Silent as a tomb, Madison Square Garden stood today a temporary sarcophagus for its dead leader, Tex Rickard, prior to burial this afternoon.

Carried into the huge sports arena yesterday, the famous sports promoter's body lay in a costly bronze casket all through the night while two attendants kept a guard of honor.

Under the floodlights which usually illuminate the Garden's boxing ring, the dead promoter lay in his casket. Behind were massed hundreds of floral tributes.

In three hours yesterday some 15,000 men, women and children passed by the bier to pay their last respects to the dead.

Arlington Park's Organization Plans

Chicago, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Reorganization of Arlington Park race track by a group of prominent Chicagoans, who took over the plant at a cost of $2,400,000, has been completed with the election of officers. Charles A. McCulloch has been named chairman of the Board of Directors and Otto W. Lehmann, president.

At a cost of approximately $300,000 a separate house for the turf and field members will be erected on the Arlington Park property. Other improvements planned include a polo field, a golf course and grounds for other outdoor sports.

First Ski Meet of Season at Cary, Ill.

Chicago, Jan. 6.—(AP)—The Haugen brothers will renew their rivalry for ski jumping honors Sunday, when they compete in the first Chicago district meet at Cary, Ill.

Lars Haugen, holder of the national championship for seven years, will compete for St. Paul while his brother, Anders, will carry the colors of the Odgen Dunes club. The entry includes Casper Olmon of Norway.

Cubs to Stand Pat on Their Line-Up

Chicago, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Indicating that the Chicago Cubs would stand pat on their present lineup, President William L. Veeck, has packed his grips and left for California for a vacation on Catalina Island.

President Veeck has indicated that the Cubs are not interested in acquiring Lester Bell of the Braves, who is supposed to be on the market, or Joe Dugan, who recently hopped from the Yankees to Boston by the waiver route.

THE RULES

1—The idea of letter golf is to change one word to another and do it in as few strokes as possible. Thus to change COW to HEN, in three strokes COW, HOW, HEW, HEN.

2—You can change only one letter at a time.

3—You must have a complete word of common usage, for each pump along words and abbreviations don't count.

4—The order of letters cannot be changed.

One solution is printed on page 9.

KIWANIANS HEAR OF DEVELOPMENT OF PLOW PLANTS

Supt. of Dixon Factory of Case Co. Gave Interesting Talk

"The development of the plow industry in Dixon," an important factor in the prosperity and progress of this city, was outlined in a very interesting manner before the Kiwanis club at their regular weekly luncheon and meeting yesterday afternoon by I. B. Altekruze, superintendent of the Grand Detour Division of the J. I. Case Plow Company.

"Three important factors are prominent in the development of the implement business of today—designing or developing, manufacture and selling," the speaker stated in opening. "At the Dixon plant, attention is centered entirely upon the manufacture, while the designing and developing is accomplished at Rockford and the sales handled through the company's head offices at Racine, Wis."

Many Radical Changes.
"In the last five years radical changes have been developed in the manufacture of agricultural implements. In fact, this change in this space of time has been greater than in three or four times the same length of time in previous years. The tractor industry is an example of the change. At a time when labor was scarce, tractors were developed and sold without respect to durability or quality of material entering into their manufacture. There were many instances where high powered salesmen went out in agricultural communities and took orders for tractors that were never delivered. There came a peak, then a decline and now the tractor business is righting itself to a level.

"On the other hand we in the past few years have seen the combine and the one-way plow revolutionize the grain raising industry on our farms. Grain may be threshed and placed in the storage bins on the same day. "From July 1, the Dixon plant has averaged 750 tons of finished goods in the warehouse monthly. Approximately two-thirds of the goods manufactured in the Dixon plant are shipped in one-third of the year. This has necessitated the working out of a schedule in the factory which will provide for its operation and steady employment for its force of workmen the year around. In the fall of the year, the plant devotes its energy to the manufacture of export goods. Dixon made plows are shipped to Chile, Argentina, Russia, France, Australia and a number of other foreign countries.

No Warehouse Storing
"In the next four months, which is known as the heavy period in the plow shops, the goods go direct from the plant to the cars for shipment and there is no piling up in the warehouses.

"It might be interesting to know that the pay roll of the Dixon plant averages $25,000 monthly and that an average of 270 men are given employment in this industry. The pay roll of any industry or plant establishes the standard of living not only of its employees but the community in which they reside and spend their money. Therefore, the pay roll of the Dixon plant is important to the welfare and growth of Dixon. The money spent in the manufacture of the product is important to the daily life of Dixon."

NEW MODERN REFORMS
Peshawar, India—(AP)—Gratification at the establishment of friendly relations with Great Britain and other European nations was a feature of King Amanullah's most recent speech in Kabul.

His majesty recounted his experiences and announced a new series of reforms designed to bring Afghanistan into line with the development of western nations. These included fundamental changes in municipal and judicial regulations, compulsory co-education between the ages of 6 and 11, the introduction of European clothing into Kabul and optional use of the veil by women.

EIGHT YEARS RULE REVIEW- ED BY CHIEF

which state funds had been deposited and upon which that bank had paid into the state treasury the prevailing rate of interest.

"The conditions under which the civil suit was tried made it impossible for me to obtain a fair and impartial decision. Throughout the pendency of the case certain newspapers backed by powerful interests that found it impossible to control my official actions, indulged in a constant assault upon me with the intent of influencing the minds of the judges before whom my case was from time to time pending.

"I believed at the time the decision was rendered and still believe that the conditions under which it was rendered were such that I could not obtain a fair and impartial trial, that the decision was influenced by political considerations and terrorism, that certain large newspapers in this state had succeeded in inspiring the minds of some of the judges of our highest court.

"I should, however, not leave this subject without paying high tribute to the integrity, character and courage of the two judges who dissented and who honestly expressed their opinions in accordance with the laws and in the face of the terrific assaults that were being made upon me and the ominous threats that were being made against the judiciary to influence its decision against me.

"After the decision of the Supreme court was rendered, the case was referred to the circuit court of Sangamon county for an accounting. After numerous hearings an agreement was finally reached between the attorney general, representing the state, and my attorneys, in which the sum of $650,000 was to be paid by me to the state.

"The following is quoted from the stipulation which was signed at the time of the agreement and later embodied in the final decree of the circuit court of Sangamon county:

"Fourth: It is further stipulated and agreed that the evidence fails to establish that the defendant, Len Small, received any sum or sums of money whatsoever as interest upon public funds during his office as state treasurer, except such sums as he has already accounted for and paid into the state treasury, and that the liability of the said defendant, Len Small in this case is solely for interest received by any other defendants herein."

"Prior to that time, I had accounted for and paid into the state treasury $450,000, which was all of the interest received by me from all the banks in which state funds were deposited. This amount was more than twice the interest earned during the term of any other state treasurer up to that time. I have paid into the treasury more interest than all the state treasurers combined from the time Illinois became a state in 1828.

"The sum of $650,000 was not paid back into the state treasury as The Chicago Tribune and its colleagues stated, it never was in the state treasury and it never belonged to the state; none of it had ever been received by me as interest on public funds.

"I believe that when the passing years enable us to look at this decision of our highest court with candid and unbiased eyes, we shall all look upon that day as a regrettable incident in the history of the judicial department of this state."

Pardons and Paroles

"I believe that I may accurately report to you that the accomplishments of our division of pardons and paroles for the past eight years have not been approached in any other state. Under the parole law the most accurate estimates are that 87 per cent of the prisoners paroled from Joliet and 83 per cent of those paroled from all other institutions have observed the terms of their paroles and are engaged in useful activities. This record, I believe is better than that of any other state in the union, or any other country in the world where attempts are made to scientifically administer penal laws.

"Much misunderstanding of the operations of the parole law exists in the public mind, due largely to the unfair attacks that have been made upon the board and the state administration, not only in the past eight years, but previously, by newspapers that were uninformed of the facts or that maliciously indulged in misrepresentations.

"The suggestion of further legislation changes in our penal laws should, I believe, be left to the incoming administration, to be met as its judgment and experience may dictate.

"There is no more important problem facing the people of the state of Illinois today, than that of the management of the penal institutions, and parole administration. Vocational training and rehabilitation before ultimate release of inmates, and the continued efficient parole supervision, are essential to the public welfare."

"Decided progress has been made in the past eight years in the after care which is given the prisoners who are paroled. No person has gone up on parole from either penitentiary or reformatory until a job has been secured for him and the sponsor has been investigated. Every parolee was required to work the day after leaving the institution with no period of idleness between. While the parole administration has been good and is constantly improving, yet the problems involved are of such intricacy and difficulty that they merit constant thought and attention."

Six hundred miles of pavement, under contract, several hundred miles of heavy grading, a large number of bridges, plans and surveys completed for 578 additional miles are the 1929 program with $23,000,000 of the $100,000,000 bond issue still unsold. The message reviews the world's record Illinois has broken in hard road building.

"The world's record for the amount of paved roads built in a year's time have been broken repeatedly by our state. The 1924 record of 1,230 miles was surpassed during 1928 when 1,293.5 miles were built. This mileage brings the total amount of roads completed to 7,776.96 miles.

"I recommend to this General Assembly that means be provided to complete the State Bond issue road system as provided in the Bond Issue laws and to extend that system so that every city and village in the state of Illinois will be connected by paved roads; that the roads in the congested metropolitan areas be widened and improved to meet the development of highway traffic; and that a large system of secondary roads be constructed throughout the state. For this purpose I recommend the passage of a gasoline tax law because I believe it to be the fairest and most just tax for building roads. I feel that all revenues derived from motor vehicle license fees and a gasoline tax should be used for the completion and maintenance of the road system and that any diversion of these funds into other channels would be unfair and unsound from an economic standpoint.

"But important as more and wider roads are to the welfare, comfort and pleasure of our people, it is far more important to preserve the roads that are already built. Our roads have been designed and constructed for carrying for an indefinite length of time and with perfect safety the maximum legal load now in force in Illinois. The greatest single menace to the life and usefulness of our highway system is the large motor truck carrying loads in excess of those for which our highway system has been designed. There is great danger that, not realizing the tremendous loss which may occur from doing so, sometime in the future, some legislature may pass a law permitting increased truck loads and before the people have realized the danger, this wonderful system of highways, which has cost the state hundreds of millions of dollars, will be destroyed.

"I recommend that the motor vehicle laws be amended so as to provide that the commercial truck be made to pay its fair and just portion of the original cost and maintenance of the public highways which they use.

"The proper policing of our State highway system has become a very important problem. As the mileage of paved State Highways have increased, the force of State Highway policemen has been gradually increased until the force now numbers one chief, thirteen sergeants, one hundred and forty-one officers and six mechanics.

"Our highway police have warned hundreds of thousands of motorists against the infringement of the road laws, reckless and fast driving, absence of lights, lack of license plates, etc. I believe that the small force of highway patrolmen has made a most commendable record during the past seven years.

"I recommend that laws be passed with a view to making our highways safer by curbing reckless and careless driving and by providing for the drastic punishment of persons driving on the public highways while intoxicated.

"Reports show that the highway patrolmen have cooperated with local authorities throughout the state and have brought about the arrest of murderers, diamond thieves, burglars and hold-up men, bank robbers and countless other criminals. Their work following the disastrous cyclone at Murphysboro, and during the more recent floods along the Illinois river, has been most helpful to these communities.

"Perhaps the most outstanding achievement of this force, however, was the part it played in driving out of southern Illinois the gang of murderers and robbers which for years had made their headquarters in Franklin and Williamson counties and brought disrepute on the law-abiding people of Illinois and especially of those counties. For years, by intimidating and threatening public officials, these gangsters had made it impossible to convict and often even to apprehend them. It was only through the persistent efforts of the Chief of Highway police and his men that the murderers of Lory Price, the Franklin county highway patrolman, were brought to justice."

Agriculture.

"During the period covered by this report, farming has not shown the substantial profit to those engaged in that business that is desired. It therefore, is fitting that the State government should have been unusually active in its attempt to serve farming interests. We are, therefore, pleased to report the greatest activity for the benefit of agriculture which has been shown during any period in the history of Illinois.

"While in Illinois, especially, owing mainly to improved weather conditions, we have produced a fair crop in 1928, yet the tremendous increase in the cost which the farmer must pay for everything he buys or uses on his farm has made it impossible to obtain a fair return of interest on the capital invested in farming. The prices that the farmer received, even with a fairly good crop, are even yet not high enough to make farming a profitable business.

"The campaign for the eradication of bovine tuberculosis advanced about seven years ago has advanced most rapidly. Farmers and livestock breeders have appreciated that the presence of tuberculosis in their herds constituted a serious handicap in the most efficient development of those herds and have cooperated with state officials in the elimination of this disease. At this time 76 out of 102 counties have been certified as having 75 percent of their cattle population tested and 35 counties have been accredited as being entirely free from tuberculosis. These thirty-five counties have been accredited during the past two years.

THIS HAS HAPPENED ASHORETH ASHIE, a stenographer from Boston, turns adventures on a tropical cruise. To begin with, Ashoreth took a trip for her health. Then, on a shipboard, she met an Englishman named JACK SMYTHE, who made dangerous love to her. INAUGURATION OF GOV. FORD IN '42 NOT IMPRESSIVE

In Strange Contrast to the Fete Which Will be Held Monday

Springfield, Ill.—(AP)—Inauguration of Thomas Ford as Governor of Illinois in 1842 was quite different from the celebration planned for Louis L. Emmerson's inaugural here Monday.

Governor Ford was the first Governor to take his oath of office in Springfield. The new state house, now the Sangamon county court house, had been built during the administration of his predecessor, Thomas Carlin. Carlin had taken his oath of office at Vandalia in 1838.

Old files of the Sangamon Journal, a weekly paper then published in Springfield, and preserved at the State Historical library, reveal little interest in the inauguration of a governor. The proceedings are not mentioned in the paper, except under the business of the legislature. The only accounts of the affair are found in the daily doings of the Senate and House of Representatives for Thursday, December 8, 1842, as follows:

"Senate—2 o'clock:
Dancing Forbidden.
"On motion of Mr. Ralston," the account read "the Senate concurred in the passage of a joint resolution, allowing the use of the Hall, for the purpose of an inauguration party, provided there should be no dancing at the entertainment.

"Message from the House, informing the Senate of their readiness to receive them in pursuance of a joint resolution, for the purpose of attending the inauguration of the Governor and Lieut. Governor-elect.

"Whereupon, the Honorable Senate, preceded by their Speaker, repaired to the House. The oath of office was then administered by the Honorable Judge Breese, after which Governor Ford delivered his inaugural address.

"The Honorable Lieut. Governor on being conducted to the chair made a short speech.

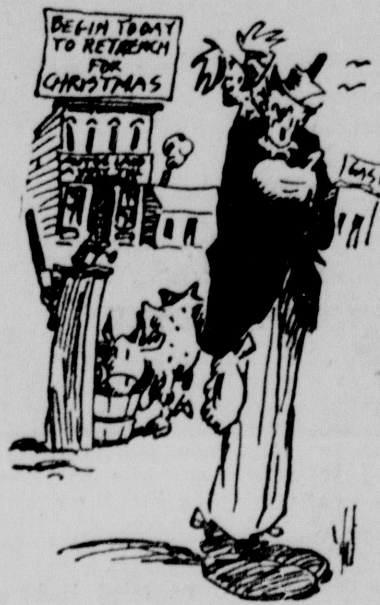

"On motion, the Senate adjourned."

Mentioned But Once
Governor Ford's name is mentioned only once in the accounts of the affair and that is when the Senate reporter briefly said, "Governor Ford delivered his inaugural address."

Accounts of the affair by the reporter of the House of Representatives were even more laconic.

"Proceedings of the House. 2 o'clock.
"On motion of Mr. Ficklin, a committee of seven was appointed to wait on the Governor and Lieut. Governor, and inform them that the two Houses were ready to receive them.

"At a quarter before 3 o'clock the Governor and Lieut. Governor-elect entered the Hall, attended by the joint committee, and the oath of office was then administered by His Honor Sidney Breese, one of the Green River is the healthful fuel.

It burns clean — is practically smokeless — and does not, like so many coals, fill the air in your rooms with fine particles of dust and soot which are so unhealthy to breathe.

Green River is a pre-eminent domestic fuel and the only coal of its kind in the United States. Burn it this winter — see the difference.

Green River is trademarked by spraying green color on it at the mine. This color is your protection — enables you to know when you are getting genuine Green River. Place your order NOW. And look for the color!

Green River is mined only by the Green River Fuel Co., Inc., Moore, Ky.

Studebaker announces a new World Champion President Eight

... of greater power,
beauty and luxury

$1785 at the factory

115-horsepower motor; Double-drop frame; New, longer, lower lines; Dual carburetion; Non-shatterable windshield; Adjustable front seat; Automatic choke control; Safety steel-core steering wheel; Ball bearing spring shackles; Houdaille hydraulic shock absorbers

AT THE moment when eager eyes turn to the newest offerings of American automotive genius, Studebaker announces a surpassing achievement—a new and finer world champion President Eight! A motor car priced in a range where such performance, such luxury, such beauty of coachcraft and color, have never sold before!

In traveling 30,000 miles in 26,326 minutes the great President Eight officially demonstrated more speed and endurance than any other regular factory production car the world has ever known. The President Eight today holds every official speed and endurance record for fully equipped stock cars.

Today's motor car is the eight! At the recent Paris Salon de l'Automobile—at the Olympia Motor Show in London—on the boulevards and highways of America during the past twelve months, the trend of motor car demand has been unmistakably to the straight eight.

The Eight is THE Car.

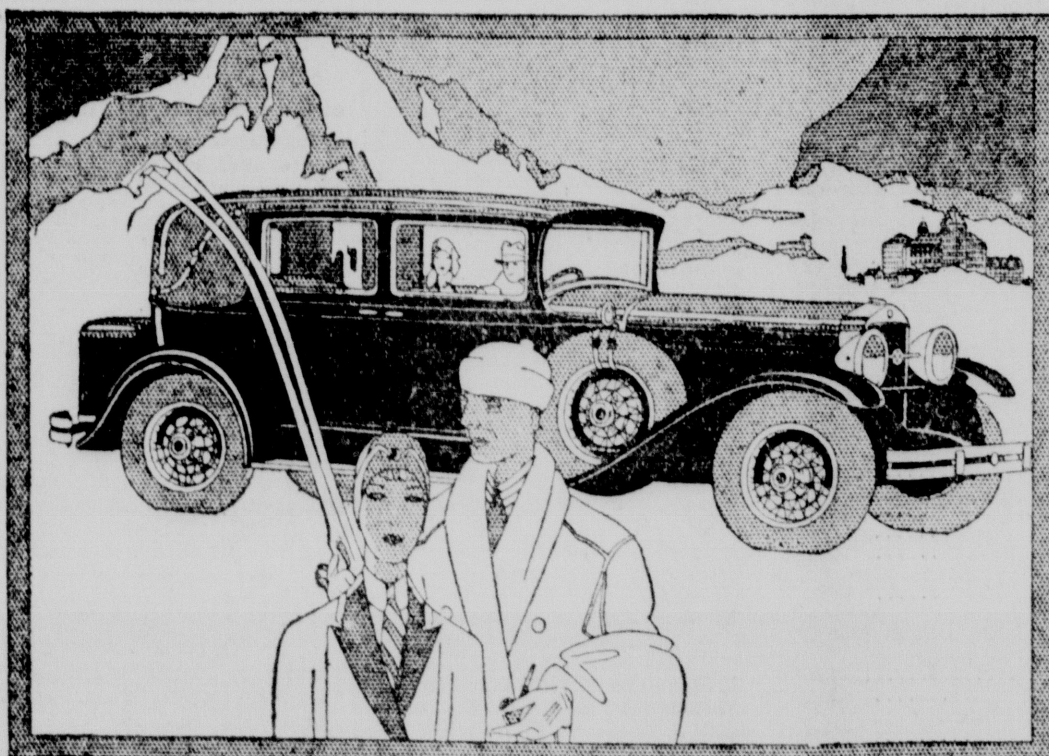

This is THE Eight!

It has been Studebaker's privilege, through providing the first truly great eight of moderate cost, to be the standard-bearer of the industry in the swing toward this finer, more flexible, more suave and pliant transportation. Dramatically and sensationally, Studebaker's President Eight led the way.

But the engineering genius which created such a car could not rest idly on its laurels. Hence today, Studebaker presents a still greater President Eight—the triumphantly successful product of Studebaker's research laboratories and million-dollar Proving Ground.

This new President Eight is as near to a perfect motor car mechanically as champion-builders can make it. It is a large car—but not bulky. It is a genuinely beautiful car—a smart car—with good taste in every line and in all its appointments. It is a fast car, and enduring. Its manners and its comforts await your appraisal in Studebaker showrooms today. Come, drive a champion!
